

Instructions

1. Print all three pages of dare cards.
2. Cut out each card.
3. A blank card template is included if you'd like to add your own customized cards.

How to Play

Distribute the cards to Thanksgiving or Friendsgiving dinner guests at some point before the meal.

Explain that guests must complete the dare on their card. Guests cannot show other guests their card.

When a guest completes their card, they return it to a designated location like a basket or drawer.

The goal is for each guest to complete their dare card. This game is meant to add some extra fun and laughs to the meal.

If you have extra cards guests can pick more than one to see who can complete the most dares.

Optional: create a punishment for those who don't complete their dare or a prize for those who do.

Have fun!

Thanksgiving spirit

Look each person at the table in the eye & tell them you are thankful for them

Slow & steady now

Eat the entire dinner with your
non-dominant hand

The turkey goes...

Gobble every time you hear the word turkey

Let's play squash

Get five people to say the word "squash" in conversation

Pie burglar

Sneak a piece of pie
before dinner

Gravy boat

Try dunking
EVERYTHING in gravy

Cranberry connoisseur

Talk for two minutes about cranberries and how much you love them (time yourself)

Messy Marvin

Wear your napkin as a bib for the rest of the day

Literal toast

Toast the host (by literally giving them a piece of toast)

Let's sing

Bust out singing your favorite song halfway through dinner using a turkey leg as a mic

Gorged & gassy

Ask the people sitting next to you if you can borrow some Gas-X

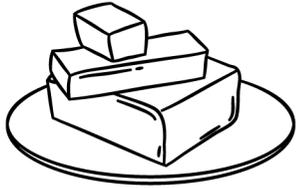

Let's dance

Teach everyone the turkey slide (make it up as you go)

Food Fairy

Sneak more food on someone else's plate when they aren't looking

Let's race

Convince at least three people to do a mini turkey trot around the yard with you

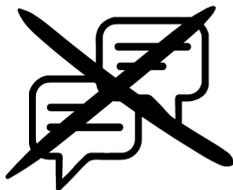

Condiment king

Ask the host for six different condiments throughout dinner

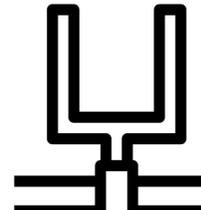

Shhhh

Be silent for eight minutes during dinner even if someone talks to you

Toilet touchdown

Everytime someone goes to the bathroom stand by the door & yell "touchdown" when they come out

Spontaneous poet

Recite your favorite Thanksgiving poem (that you've just made up)
